ALLEGANY COUNTY GOVERNMENT NEWS RELEASE MARCH 8, 2018

OPIOID LAWSUIT PUBLIC MEETING ALLEGANY COUNTY GOVERNMENT CITY OF CUMBERLAND CITY OF FROSTBURG

Allegany County Government, the City of Cumberland, and the City of Frostburg are hosting an Opioid Lawsuit Public Meeting. The public meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 13, 2018, at 6:00 p.m. at Allegany College of Maryland, 12401 Willowbrook Road, Cumberland, Maryland, College Center - Zimmer Theatre.

Allegany County Government, the City of Cumberland, and the City of Frostburg have recently joined a national opioid lawsuit. The public meeting will feature a presentation about this lawsuit by A.J. Serafini, Esquire, The Poole Law Group, Hagerstown, Maryland. Retired Maryland State Police Major James R. Pyles will make introductory remarks.

William M. Rudd, County Attorney, and Michael S. Cohen, who represents the City of Cumberland and City of Frostburg, will be present. The Allegany County Commissioners, and the City Administrators, Mayors, and Council Members of Cumberland and Frostburg are expected. Allegany County Sheriff Craig A. Robertson and other officials and representatives from different agencies also plan to attend. Brandon S. Butler, Allegany County Administrator, will moderate the public meeting.

All community members and other interested individuals are invited and encouraged to attend this event.
